Collins, Giles, Longworth Re-Elected; Adams Wins

Town Casts Record Of 7,689 Votes

Republican Representatives Collins, Giles and Longworth were re-elected and John Adams, 15 Stratford rd., Republican candidate for state senator won over Senator Coddair (D) in the great Republican landslide Tuesday that saw General Dwight W. Eisenhower elected President of the United States and Christian A. Herter (R) defeat Paul A. Dever (D) for governor of Massachusetts.

The only major Democratic victory in Massachusetts was the election of John F. Kennedy as U.S. senator over Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Andover voters contributed to the victory in the Republican columns by giving substantial margins to all G.O.P. candidates while piling up the greatest vote in the town's history with 7689 of its 8495 eligible voters; or 90.51 percent, casting their ballots.

Included in Andover's record vote Tuesday were 438 absentee ballots, 397 of them registered civilian voters and 41 military war ballot votes.

Much of the interest locally centered on the representative and

Miss Fowler Wins In Beauty Contest

Miss Barbara Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fowler, 40 York st., was third place winner in a beauty contest at the Natural Gas convention held in Atlantic City last week.

All the contestants were young models who represented all of the 48 states.

Miss Fowler is now living in New York City and doing a great deal of modeling and television bits.

Town Gets Bills For State Levies

The selectmen Monday night received the following bills which the town has to pay the state: $2511.10 as the town's share of the state parks and reservations tax; $1025.46 for audit of the municipal accounts; and $72.76 for an audit of the accounts of the retirement system.

A letter from Daniel E. Hogan Jr., 26 Morton st., complaining about traffic at Bartlet and Morton streets and requesting more adequate stop signs, was read and referred to the police department for a survey and action.

Use of the community room in Ballardvale was granted the Methodist church for a fair to be held Nov. 8.

Additional Bus Needed For School Population

Discuss Problems In Wool Textiles

The woolen industry in New England has benefited to some extent through the cooperation it has received from the two major labor organizations and employees in the matter of extension of workloads since last January, but a realistic wage scale and relief from tax burdens are needed if the industry in New England is to survive, Francis W. White of Wolcott ave., president of the American Woolen Co., stated at an informal gathering of wool and worsted textile officials and the press at the Andover Inn last week.

While he felt the industry is in a healthier position than it was when he made his Lawrence talk earlier in the year, Mr. White warned that in the next four months

The need of a new school bus in addition to the four now in use was brought to the attention of the school committee at its regular meeting Monday night by Supt. Kenneth L. Sherman who explained that the growth in school population warranted such a move.

On motion of William A. Doherty seconded by Mrs. Dorothy Partridge it was voted to authorize the superintendent to call for bids for an additional bus for the transportation of school children, including the kindergarten.

On motion of Miss Anna M. Greeley seconded by C. Carleton Kimball it was voted to accept the salary schedule as proposed by Supt. Sherman to become effective April 1, 1953. This allows for a new top figure in each of the present salary brackets.

All members were present, Sec. Doherty read the minutes of the Oct. 7 meeting which were approved.

It was voted that the salary of the driver-training instructor be established at $250 a year, and that of the basketball coach at $650 a year.

Red Cross Issues Blood Donor List

The following donor list has been certified by the Boston Red Cross blood center, clearing house for the whole Massachusetts Red Cross blood program, for the Andover visit of the bloodmobile on Sept. 22 and 23. This visit, during which 279 pints of blood were collected, was another in the list of blood-collection days in which the assigned quota was topped.

In connection with the visit it is interesting to note that approximately 38% were new donors, which indicates that the base of support of the blood program is broadening.

The list is as follows:
George Harper, Thomas Pratt, Julia Fuller, Olive Sherman, Bernice McKee, Gladys Hill, Raymond Lynch, Richard Pieters, George Follansbee, Marie Benedict, Iva Laing, Arthur Read, Madeline Prescott, Luella Thompson, Marjorie Emmons, Rita Holch, Helen Batchelder, Ruth Brian, Dorothy Santuccio, Graham Baldwin, John Barss, Margaret L. On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collins of Pine st. were tendered a small reception at their home Tuesday evening in honor of their 56th wedding anniversary. Sunday their granddaughter, Mrs. Walter Roberts of Haverhill, gave a family dinner party in their honor. At both events family and friends offered congratulations to the happy couple and wished them many more years of happiness together.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Collins, who are members of the West church, enjoy its many activities and local happenings. Although Mrs. Collins' eyesight has failed, she still keeps a keen interest in things about her.

The couple has one daughter, Mrs. Helen Dooley.

PUNCHARD HIGH

By GLADYS THOMSON

Blue Book

A policy committee made up of teachers from the Junior and Senior high schools are planning to put out a "blue book" of information concerning the high school. This information will consist of news of various clubs, sports activities and contests. Emily Petit of the English department in the Junior high school will be the faculty member in charge.

P.T.S.A. Activities

The Parent, Teacher, Student association board met Monday to make plans for the next meeting Nov. 12. At this time a portion of the senior class play "The Youngest" will be presented. Mervin Stevens is the director.

The Question

Robert McIntyre's sixth period algebra class had a chance recently to express its political views on the forthcoming election. Instead of an algebra lesson there was a heated debate on the subject of who our next president should be and why.

Sophomore Dance

Friday, Nov. 7 is the date set for the sophomore class dance. This will be held from 8 to 11 p.m. in the auditorium. For an added attraction there will be a few square dances for those interested. Tickets may be obtained at the door Friday evening.

Ring Committee

The junior class ring committee has been chosen. The following people will be the ones who will look over the various styles of rings and select the one they feel the class would like the most: Allan Wadman, Daniel Shaw, Raymond Yancy, Ann Sughrue, Betsy Sparks, Charles Giovino, Alda McCormick, Carol DesRoches, John Carver, Judith Colmer and George Adams.

Election

The results of the Punchard election which was held Nov. 3 was as follows: Senior, Eisenhower 75, Stevens 24; faculty: Eisenhower 16, Stevens 6; juniors: Eisenhower 66, Stevens 29; sophomores: Eisenhower 62, Stevens 34; The grand total: Eisenhower 219, Stevens 93. For governor of Massachusetts Herter won with 214 votes while Dever got 93. Lodge was elected U. S. Senator with 186 votes while Kennedy was not far behind with 140. The congressman from the fifth district was Rogers with 193 while Cullen received 56 votes. This election was run under the direction of Edward Doherty's and Kenneth McKinry's civics classes. Philip Spinney was chair-

School Paper

The Punchard paper, Punchard Hi-Lights came out Tuesday for the first time this year. The editor-in-chief is Gil Efinger and the assistant editor Janet Svenson. The paper was well received and everyone is looking forward to the next edition.

In the Junior high, S. Perry Congdon, faculty advisor to the school paper to be published has held many newspaper meetings. The name of the paper will be School Days. The editor is George Durant and the first edition is expected about Thanksgiving.

J. H. Cheerleaders

A group of girls who do not get much recognition, but who are always on the job cheering their team on to victory is the Junior high cheerleaders. Catherine Duke is the head cheerleader and the following girls make up the squad: Anne Lefebvre, Helen Kilman, Beverly Bernard, Nancy Sunderland, Joan Hamilton, Sandra Yancy, Pat Doyle, Agnes St. Jean, Prudence Pimpore, Faith Thornton, Eileen McCarthy and Gail Marland.

Our Auto Insurance Rates

Compulsory auto insurance rates for 1953 are expected shortly to be announced and, moreover, are expected to be much higher.

The casualty companies serving Massachusetts have presented a study of the personal injury losses from accidents caused by motorists of this state for the past three years to explain their reluctance to underwrite motorists with bad accident records. The statistics show the companies lost nearly $25 million in that period.

The report for Andover revealed that the rates for 1949, 1950 and 1951 were intended to provide the companies with a total of $132,417 to meet accident losses, yet the actual losses caused by Andover motorists for the three years were $166,998, or $34,581 short of the necessary amount.

The statistics were made public to show why higher rates are "absolutely necessary in the present crisis brought about by the tremendous rise in motoring accidents and the enormously increased cost of settling claims for these accidents, due to inflation, over-generous jury awards, and other factors."

The rates are not fixed by the insurance companies. Under the law they are fixed by the state insurance commissioner, who has already indicated an increase for 1953.

The rates are determined for each community by the collective accident record of its own motorists. No matter where the accident occurs the insurance loss is charged back to the city or town where the motorist garages his car, so that the only way to bring down the rates is to reduce accidents.

"It is the man behind the wheel," they say, "who sets the rates."

How about it? Are you going to help boost the rates or cut them?

It takes hundreds of nuts to hold an automobile together, but only one to jolt it apart.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH

NURSING . . .

Today, nurses are needed as never before. The demand for qualified nurses will continue to outnumber the supply for many years to come.

Nursing as a career has never been more promising. Everyone can find a field of nursing which suits her interests and aptitudes. There is a wide range of positions in administration, education, public health and research.

As one studies and practices nursing, one works constantly with people, helping to solve their problems, and giving them strength and understanding. In endeavoring to achieve a healthier and happier life for the patient, the nurse grows in her own enjoyment of life. The nurse performs a service from which great personal satisfaction may be obtained — helping to keep our people healthy.

There is no better preparation for marriage and family life than nursing. At least one-half of all active nurses are married.

NEW BOOKS

Chance To Live,

Carroll-Abbing.

Hundreds of thousands of children were hungry, homeless and destitute after the last war and for protection banded themselves together and lived in any way they could. Through the work of the author and other interested persons a series of towns were developed where the children could know something of normal living.

Radio, Television and Society, Siepmann.

The first book to deal comprehensively with radio in its relation to the American scene. It reviews the history of broadcasting in the United States and tells the effect on outlook and behavior of the listener, and discusses systems of operation. It discusses propaganda, free speech and education with relation to mass media.

Tailoring Suits the Professional Way, Poulin.

Excellent, simply presented techniques for making men's suits that have the fine points of tailoring so essential for appearance. Principles could be applied to any fine tailoring job.

Men, Women And Morals, Duvall.

Straightforward, realistic answers to the question "What moral code can we live by in these days?"

Home Book Of Recorded Music And Sound Reproduction, Sat. Review of Lit.

How to improve home reproduction. Fine for those who would listen to learn.

A few for the fixers:

Audels Television Service Manual, Anderson; National Electrical Code Handbook, Abbott; Electrical Appliance Servicing, Crouse; Radio-Television and Electronics Handbook, Pop. Mech. Mag.; Radio and Television Receiver Troubleshooting, Ghirardi; How To Build And Repair Your Own Furniture; Dress Up Your Home, Blodin; Wild Flowers For Your Garden, Hull.

Myron E. Gutterson, prominent in civic affairs, died Oct. 31 after long illness. Was born here Feb. 18, 1863.

All The Best In South America (East Coast), Clark.

Excellent handbook for the business man, student, traveller or armchair wanderer. This is a companion to the book of the same title that deals with the West coast.

The Art Of Botanical Illustration, Blunt.

This is too fine a book to be overlooked among the many being published at the moment. By means of color and photogravure reproduction and line drawing Mr. Blunt, artist and scholar, has traced the development of plant illustration from the earliest cave-dweller efforts to the present.

Esther W. Smith Will Recorded

The will of Esther Ward Smith, late of 63 Shawsheen rd., was recorded at the registry of probate at Salem Oct. 27. Miss Smith, who signed the document Mar. 17, 1950, had property estimated at $41,000. She nominated Stephen A. McClellan of Syosset, N.Y., the executor.

A $5000 legacy for the Orchard Home school in Boston was contained in the will and gifts of $5000 apiece were left to Stephen McClellan, Jr., Sandra McClellan and George McClellan, all of Glen Cove, N.Y. The sum of $500 was awarded to Mrs. Julie King of Lowell.

Residue of the estate was bequeathed to Mrs. Mary Churchill McClellan of Glen Cove, N.Y. The probate petition listed the heirs-at-law as Mary S. Churchill and Elizabeth M. S. Clarke, both of New York City and sisters of the Andover resident, and a niece, Mary C. McClellan of Glen Cove. All of the heirs-at-law assented to the petition for allowance of the will.

SUEPARD - BARRELL

At a 3:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday in the North Parish church, North Andover, Miss Katherine Marie Barrell, daughter of Mrs. William Alfred Barrell of Johnson st., North Andover, became the bride of Lt. (jg) John Field Shepard, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Field Shepard of Londonderry, N.H., formerly of Andover. The Rev. Ernest A. Brown officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother, William A. Barrell Jr., she had as her attendants, Mrs. John M. Barrell of Marblehead as matron of honor, Miss Janet E. Stewart of Alexandria, Va., as maid of honor, Miss Anstiss Weston of North Andover, Miss Sarah W. McDuffie of Andover, Miss Mary G. Hall of Brookline and Mrs. John A. Pidgeon of Deerfield, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids.

Best man was Lt. (jg) Robert P. McElvein, USNR of Revere and the ushers included F. Bradley Lynch of Little Compton, R.I., Walter V. B. Roberts Jr., of Princeton, N.J., John M. Barrell of Marblehead, Josiah T. S. Horton of Canton, O., and John A. Pidgeon of Deerfield.

A reception at the Tedesco Country club, Marblehead, followed the ceremony.

Ladies Night Held By Club Group

The Andover Sportsman's club held a very successful "ladies' night" at the clubhouse last Saturday evening, the first such an event in its history.

A buffet supper was served followed by a barn dance. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a hunting rifle to Kenneth Wade, chairman of the building committee, for his untiring effort and devotion to the club. The presentation was made by the club president, Edgar C. Haselton. Mrs. Wade was presented with a bouquet by Albert E. Foss, former director of the club.

Chet Harnden was general chairman of the program. He was assisted by Mrs. Harnden on tickets; Clayton Frausel chef, whose aides were James Ruxton, John Keith, John Broderick, Joseph Billanti, Gerald Brent and Frank Patterson; Kenneth Wade and Joseph Monan, decorations; Albert Foss on parking, and William Kneath checking.

A regular meeting of the club will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 11. A hot dog roast will follow.

Supper To Feature
Fair In Shawsheen

A home baked supper of ham and baked beans will be a feature of the Village Fair, which the Shawsheen Village Woman's club is sponsoring at the Crystal Ballroom on Wednesday, Nov. 19. Mrs. Charles Benedetti is the supper chairman and her committee includes, Mrs. Edward O'Donnell, Mrs. Walter Caswell, Mrs. Irvin Wilkinson and Mrs. Herman Seinwerth. Tickets for the supper may be obtained from Mrs. Benedetti and reservations will close Monday, Nov. 17.

The fair is being run by the scholarship committee and the ways and means committee and the proceeds will be used for the awarding of scholarships and for the club's charitable donations.

The literature department, under the direction of Mrs. Andrew Sullivan, will have charge of the bakery table and will provide the desserts for the supper.

The American home department, Mrs. Edwin Bramley and Mrs. William McBride, co-chairmen, will be in charge of the snack bar, where sandwiches and coffee will be available throughout the afternoon. Hot dogs, ice cream and soft drinks will also be on sale.

The dramatic department, with Mrs. Sherman Locke in charge, will have a table of dolls and toys for the children.

GOVERNOR'S ORDER PUTS BAN ON FIRES IN OPEN

Permits for fires in the open will not be issued here as long as the governor's order closing Massachusetts woodlands because of the fire hazard remains in effect.

The ban on outdoor fires includes the burning of leaves, Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan reported. The governor's proclamation banned hunting in Massachusetts because the draught has caused a serious fire hazard.

Burning of leaves in the street has in many instances caused a traffic hazard on streets that for a time were clouded with heavy smoke making it impossible for motorists to see more than a few feet in front of their cars.

Not all of America's investments have turned out as well as the ones in education.

WILLIAM HENNESSEY

William Hennessey, 81, of 1 Cassimere st., died Oct. 29 at his home following a long illness.

Born in Billerica, he had resided in Andover for over 60 years. Previous to his retirement he was employed in Stevens mill.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter J. Fitzmaurice of Lawrence; two brothers, Ambrose of Detroit, Mich., and Willard of Pittsfield, also several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Friday from the M. A. Burke Memorial funeral home with a high Mass of requiem at 10:30 a.m. in St. Augustine's church. Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

INFANT KEMPER

Infant Kemper, daughter of John Mason Kemper, Phillips academy headmaster and Sylvia M. (Pratt) Kemper, 189 Main st., died Sunday at the Lawrence General hospital.

MRS. SANTA LICCIARDELLO

Mrs. Santa (DiMauro) Licciardello, 84 Haverhill st., died Sunday evening at the Lawrence General hospital after a short illness.

A native of Italy, she came to Lawrence over 50 years ago and had resided in Andover for the past few years. She attended Holy Rosary church, Lawrence, and previous to her retirement in 1947 was employed in the french drawing room of the Wood mills.

She is survived by two sons, Joseph of Lawrence and Stephen of Andover; one brother, Anthony DiMauro of Philadelphia, Pa., and five sisters, Mrs. Grace Sanfilippo of Philadelphia and Rose Francesca, Angela and Josephine, all of Italy; three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Wednesday from the S. D'Amico & Son funeral chapel, Lawrence, with a solemn high Mass of requiem at 10:30 o'clock in Holy Rosary church. Burial was in the Immaculate Conception cemetery.

DISCUSS PROBLEMS

IN WOOL TEXTILES

some serious decisions are going to be made in the industry and urged "getting on our team now and preparing the ground for what is coming. You can help it or tear it apart. We have made a major effort to tell our employees of the seriousness of the situation. They have reacted well. We can take no more sabotage. We need a lot of help now."

Textile officials present included President Harry M. Bliss and E. Dean Walen of Salem st., vice president of Pacific mills, Mr. White and Jack Barry of the American Woolen Co., E. Kent Allen of Abbot Worsted Co., Graniteville, Ames Stevens of Ames Worsted Co., Lowell and president of N.A.W.M., William F. Brandy of Henry Klous Co Inc., Lawrence. Kenneth W. Marriner and Abbot Stevens of M. T. Stevens & Sons Co.

The N.A.W.M. was represented by Executive Vice President Wilkinson and Gordon Graham, public relations advisor.

Various problems in the industry were discussed in the round table session that followed the luncheon.

One of the major concerns of the industry is the subsidization of South American wool tops. Industry and both major unions are in agreement here and have urged additional import duties to offset the subsidization.

Another concerns woolen imports from England. Textile help in England, it was stated, receives about $15 or $16 a week and "today in New York you can buy these goods, duty paid, for less money than we can manufacture them."

A query as to whether or not the Taft-Hartley Act had any effect on the lull in the industry brought these replies:

Mr. Stevens: "I don't think it had anything to do with it."

Mr. Barry: "The politicians love to whip it. It doesn't stop any textile group from organizing if it wants to."

Mr. White: It's getting to be a pretty old record."

In discussing future employment in this area it was brought out that the worsted end of the business is hardest hit. Recovery of this market would greatly benefit Lawrence mills. There has been a change in buying habits in recent years in favor of the softer wools instead of the hard finish worsteds. Such buying trends in the past have run in cycles but in recent years it has stayed with the softer fabrics.

Abbot Stevens of North Andover said that if the industry in this area can get the enthusiastic co-operation of employees and the public and assistance from local and state government it would be encouraging to the industrial operations today. An attitude of everything in this area expressed in a sympathetic way, he said, would help.

Regarding the problem of synthetics Mr. White said they are producing them here but the only trouble is that they cannot get enough of them. "If we could get more," he said, "it would temporarily bring more work to Lawrence."

Mr. and Mrs. Herve Foreman of Summer st. visited friends in Hartford, Conn. last weekend.

Raymond B. Wilbur

Accepts Call To Vale Church

Raymond B. Wilbur of Belmont has accepted the call from the Union Congregational church in Ballardvale to become its minister. He will have charge of the service Sunday and will deliver the sermon.

Mr. Wilbur graduated from Ellsworth (Me.) high school and served two and a half years in the US airforce. He graduated from the Providence Bible institute in 1949, graduated from Taylor university, Upland, Ind., in 1950 with a B.A. He received his master's degree in history at Boston university in 1951 and is in his second year at the Harvard Divinity school. He took up his pastoral duties in Ballardvale Nov. 1.

Mr. Wilbur will succeed the Rev. Paul E. Callahan who resigned after three years' service to study at Harvard university.

Andover-Exeter Meet Here Nov. 8

Andover is favored to win over Exeter Saturday afternoon when the two teams meet here in the 72nd game between the two schools in a series dating back to 1878.

On its pre-season record the Blue has an edge over its New Hampshire rival. Andover has scored victories over Massachusetts Maritime academy, Harvard Fresh, Wesleyan Fresh, Amherst Fresh, Springfield Fresh and Tufts Fresh. Exeter has beaten Tilton academy but lost to Williams Fresh, Mount Hermon, New Hampshire Fresh and Bowdoin Fresh.

Last records do not mean too much in this annual clash. In a surprise deadlock last year Exeter stood off a persistent Andover attack to tie the Blue 7-7.

Urges Ike Take Relative Of On Korean T

An Andover resident has urged in a telegram to President Eisenhower that on his visit to Korea he take with him a relative of a combat soldier. The telegram would represent "the spirit of Thanksgiving to the world."

Frederick W. Bradley of Andover, a Boston business man, had the idea occurred to him that the general would bring him together with his son, John, a major on duty in Korea.

In the telegram Bradley said: "Selection could be based on the longest length of service in the Korean field or by lot among the men in the front line who are valiantly striving to uphold the principles on which we live."

Bradley said his family has relatives in Korea.
